

Back and ready to think

Monday, 03 December 2007

Oh now it's funny. I finally am ready to write and I had the hardest time getting my site functions back up and running. It wasn't that the technology was hard to figure out... I just wanted it to be right. I'm still not sure if I like this design..

Wait...I type with my eyes closed and I just had a vision of my ex-girlfriend showing up at my door and asking for me. Don't know where that came from.

Ok...so for this new site i have to change the top and the backgrounds. Tired now. It's like 2am and my mind is going south on me. More on this issue later.
